

Why I Deserve a Green Card

Xiang Yi (X.Y.) Lau

Quick Background

Born in Malaysia, raised in China, yet blessed with a western education. Fitting right into my current life in Washington, D.C., I can be whoever you need me to be. In fact, here are the languages I fluently speak:

English

Mandarin

Cantonese

French

Nationalities I Get Mistaken To Be

American

Chinese/Malaysian
(What I Actually Am)

60% of the time

18%

"You're not American? But you speak English so good!"

You mean, I speak English so well.

Japanese

10%

1%

Other

6

Continents I've traversed

195

Countries I can live in... but I would rather live in the U.S. (basically every country on earth except for Israel, since my citizenship does not recognize it as a country)

542

Days I have been in the United States

<542

Days a 1.5 year-old American citizen has been in the United States

5

My AP U.S. History Score. Yes. I know more American History than you do.

powered by